

NORTH GLENDALE

Monday afternoon and evening the North Central avenue school had its first Patrons' Day and an excellent attendance of interested parents and friends enjoyed one of the best programs ever given by the pupils of that school, all of the grades taking part. Miss Annie McIntyre, principal of the school, in a charming manner welcomed the guests and explained the occasion to them, after which the following program was heard:

Flower drill by second grade children and song, "Marguerite," by the same grade.

Songs by the first grade.
Exercise by B-1 of the first grade.
Songs by the second grade.
Exercise by the A-1 grade.
Recitation, "The Sandpipers," by the fourth grade girls.

Physical exercise by the second grade girls.

Songs by the fifth and sixth grades.
Physical exercises by the third and fourth grade boys.

Songs by the third and fourth grade girls.

Flag drill by the fifth and sixth grade girls. This was very beautiful and deserving of special mention.

Miss McIntyre explained that the girls had trained themselves and had given up their recreation periods to practice. During the drill the flag was saluted by all the children and "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung by the girls.

The program, it will be observed, brought out the music, physical culture and the memory work of the pupils. After the program all were invited to view the work of the various grades in their class rooms. Paper sloyd work, woven hammocks and rugs, in the lower grades, and sewing by girls of the fifth and sixth grades that might have done credit to much older women, were on display. Especially were the patrons pleased with the neat samples of penmanship and the arithmetic displays in all the grades. The criticism that we sometimes hear that these common subjects are being neglected in the schools today cannot apply to this school. The entire affair was very enjoyable and the visitors were enthusiastic and very appreciative of the work that is being done by the teachers.

Care and daughter, Fern; Mrs. Fern and Miss Fern, Miss Florence Brown and the hostess enjoyed the perfectly appointed luncheon, after which the party motored to San Fernando and report a delightful time.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben George of 1225 Arden avenue entertained at a prettily appointed luncheon Monday at 12 o'clock. The decorations were in red and green, beautiful red roses and ferns being arranged on the table where covers were laid for ten, who included the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Allan Fairchild, Mr. and Mrs. John Rhind, Mr. and Mrs. J. Earl McKeever, Mrs. Edgar McSpadden of North Glendale and Mr. Reginald Thompson of Los Angeles, the party having enjoyed playing golf during the morning at the Griffith park links, and certainly appreciated the charming hospitality of the genial host and gracious hostess.

VILLAGE CUT-UP AGAIN

"Our whole neighborhood has been stirred up," said the regular reader. The editor of the country weekly seized his pen.

"Tell me about it," he said. "What we want is news. What stirred it up?"

JUST LIKE JOHNNY

"Now, boys, what is the axis of the earth?"

"The axis of the earth," said Johnny, "is an imaginary line which passes from one pole to another and on it the earth revolves."

"Very good, Johnny," said the teacher. "Could you hang clothes on that line?"

"Yes sir."

"Oh, indeed; what sort of clothes may I ask?"

"Imaginary clothes, sir."

When on his way to evening service a minister met a rising young man, whom he was anxious to interest in the church.

"Good evening, my young friend," he said solemnly. "Do you ever attend a place of worship?"

"Yes, indeed, sir; every Sunday night," replied the young fellow with a smile. "I'm on my way to see her now."

THE 1915 KISS

Apropos of the six-foot limit that the moving picture censorship has assigned to moving picture kisses, Raymond Hitchcock, the comedian, said in New York:

"A kiss in my time was a fleeting thing. But nowadays!

"At Atlantic City the other evening a youth was heard to murmur passionately to a lovely girl in the moonlight:

"Just one more kiss, darling! Just one more kiss!"

"No, dear, the girl answered. 'There isn't time. The hotel closes at 2, you know, and it's nearly midnight now.'"

He—Didn't it ever occur to you that I was in love with you?"

She—Certainly; haven't you ever noticed me laughing to myself?
